

CONSENT TO RECEIVE MEDICATIONS

Compounding pharmacies employs expert pharmacists and chemists who excel in formulating drugs tailored to meet specific requirements. Their expertise enables precision in prescribing and designing treatment protocols. By leveraging their profound knowledge and skills, they ensure that medications are meticulously formulated to align with individualized needs. This commitment to patient specific and personalized formulations empowers providers/practitioners to deliver precise treatments, ensuring optimal patient outcomes and enhanced therapeutic effectiveness. ➤ I understand that Compounding Pharmacies are regulated by the Pharmacy Compounding Accreditation Board.

- I understand the preparations of compounded pharmacies are custom-made medicines, and retail pharmacies sell manufacturers' medicines.
- I understand that my prescriptions will be filled by a Compounding Pharmacy using the highest standards in preparation and compounding formulas
- I understand that my prescriptions will be delivered to my home, or I have the option to pick-up in the office.

I understand that I have the right to request my prescriptions to be sent to my local pharmacy to be filled; the cost for medications may be higher.
